Tell The Truth.

The daily papers of the larger cities are publishing news of the opening of manufacturing plants which were closed during the panic and of thousands of men being again put to work in factories that had reduced their working force. While it is pleasant to record that business is improving it does not pay to try to force such improvement by misstatements.
The National Glass Budget, published at Pittsburg, lets the cat out of the bag concerning the actual condition of affairs in that great manufacturing center when it editorially says:

"Four months ago, when mills and factories in Pittsburg were closing down or curtailing production daily and throwing into idleness thousands of workmen, local publishers lied nobly, under the mistaken idea that they knew it all and that the masses were not cognizant of what was going on around them. If an extra chore boy was put to work at one of our mills the addition was multiplied by 1,000 and the spurt industry had taken was announced under glaring headlines, but not a word did they say about the unfavorable phase of the situation —all of which was commendable and a credit to the framers of public opinion. Readers of the lies printed took their medicine in silence, believing that healthy conditions would speedily return and that with their advent the big dailies would feel warranted in imerging from the Ananias class. Business has improved somewhat; men thrown out of employment last fall are slowly but surely being called back to work again, but some of the dailies have reversed themselves and are harping on the calamity string in such a manner as cannot fail to have a bad effect on mercantile as well as industrial pursuits. One has even gone so far as to start a fund for the out-of-work, with its accompanying front page of calamity howling daily, which will doubtless cause labor, to lose more money hourly than the donation hunters will be able to drum up in a week."

Why does the Associated Press and the "big dailies," which support Republican policies, try to deceive the people on what is actually happening? It is safe to say as far as the Pittsburg papers are concerned that they view the panic and the present business depression as an unanswerable argument against the tariff which protects the Steel and other trusts.

The trusts may succeed in again becoming prosperous, but it will be as before at the expense of the people who pay high tariff prices. Tariff reform is the only way that prosperity for the many can be brought about and that is the issue that the organs of the protected interests are trying to obscure.

Douglas and Roosevelt.

While President Roosevelt is trying to find out about the matter of wages and workingmen it might be well for him to take council of that wise and patriotic Democrat (Hon.
William L. Douglas, who just before he was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1904 said:

"I believe the day is at hand when the workingman can no longer be deluded by the cry of protection. Of what possible interest can it be to a workingman out of a job and out of money to tell him that the country is growing greater, grander and richer under the Republican policy of protection?
What he wants is work, steady work, with enough money in his envelope on pay-day to settle the necessary bills for the support and education of his family, and at the same time have something left to lay away to provide against old age and sickness. Look around you and see what a very small percentage of working people are enabled to do more than plod along, with little hope and and provision for the future."

If President Roosevelt had carried out the reforms that Gov. Douglas stands for the lot of the workingmen would have been vastly improved.

Stearn and Solemn.

"We, the colored ministers of the A. M. E., the A. M. E.
Zion, and the C. M. E. churches of the United States, in conference assembled in the city of Washington, do hereby raise our voices in stearn and solemn warning to the coming national convention not to put in nomination for the Presidency either President Roosevelt or Secretary Taft on pain of having arrayed against either of those gentlemen at the polls next November the almost solid colored vote of the North."

Great Caesar! It makes us shudder to think what it will cost the Trust backers of the Republican party to stem this revolt. The colored troops fought nobly and the colored politicians evidently intend to emulate their example

Mr. Taft is playing politics for all there is in it, while the understrappers of the War Department have to attend to the government business which Taft is paid to do.

Hung in Effigy.

The Danville Advocate says: Sunday morning there was suspended to a tree in the court house yard a large stuffed man representing Representative Lillard hanged in effigy. A large placard accompanied the picture and it bore some sensational statements and damaging reflections upon Representative Lillard. It is not known who did the hanging. Saturday night a large banner was flung across Main street bearing a crude image of Lillard which also bore serious reflections upon the stand the Major took in voting for Bradley against the unanimous wishes of his constituents. The placard in the court house bore the word, "Warning—You had better seek a warmer climate." The Advocate differs with the writer of the inscription as Representative Lillard couldn't well find a warmer climate than Boyle county is just now.
